NH Providers Association Announces 2019 Award Winners

MEREDITH — The NH Providers Association today announced the winners for its 2019 Providers of the Year Awards at their Annual Meeting in Meredith, NH. The mission of The NH Providers Association is to represent its members in advancing substance use prevention, treatment, and recovery through public policy, leadership, professional development, and quality member services.

Each year, the NH Providers Association selects award recipients for recognition at their annual meeting. A list of the 2019 award winners follows:

Prevention Provider of the Year: North Country Health Consortium – Littleton, NH

Treatment Provider of the Year: Kimberly Haney of Granite Pathways – Concord, NH

Recovery Provider of the Year: Navigating Recovery of the Lakes Region – Laconia, NH

Recipients of the Provider of the Year awards were nominated with careful consideration of nomination criteria by the NH Providers Association Board of Directors and selected by vote of the Association's membership. Recipients are those whose exceptional delivery of services to the community sets a high standard of quality and impact in the substance abuse and behavioral healthcare field. While all nominees serve as exemplary models overall, focus may be given to success related, but not limited to: board excellence, programmatic evaluation and impact, fundraising, innovation, and collaboration with other entities.

The NH Providers Association commends all of the award recipients and other nominees for the work that they do to impact the field of substance misuse in the state of New Hampshire. Award recipients were recognized at the NH Providers Association annual meeting and awarded. Photos of the awards ceremony and information on the NH Providers Association can be found on their website at www.nhproviders.org.
